Soccer trip of a lifetime for Sarah

When she played her first game of soccer for Guyra as a seven year old, Sarah Rosten began a journey that will see her embark on a tour of the United Kingdom and France in early 2020.

The Guyra Central School student was selected in the North West team at regional trials, and travelled to Sydney last month to play in the NSW Combined High Schools girls' championships.

Following some impressive performances at the championships she was offered a position on the tour which will take place during January.

Sarah will join 27 other girls from around the state on the tour. While the squad are there, they will take on various schools and clubs, watch Premier League matches, and tour a Premier League stadium.

There will also be time for some off field sightseeing, including a World War I battle-field tour and taking in some of the major tourist spots.

The invitation to take part came as a surprise for Sarah who said that she did not expect to be chosen.

"I didn't know that there would be selectors at championships so it is a bit of a shock," Sarah said. "But I can't wait to go, it will be an amazing experience and I am really looking forward to it."

"I have been playing since I was old enough to play for Guyra in the local competition," she said. "I really loved it and just kept playing as I got older."

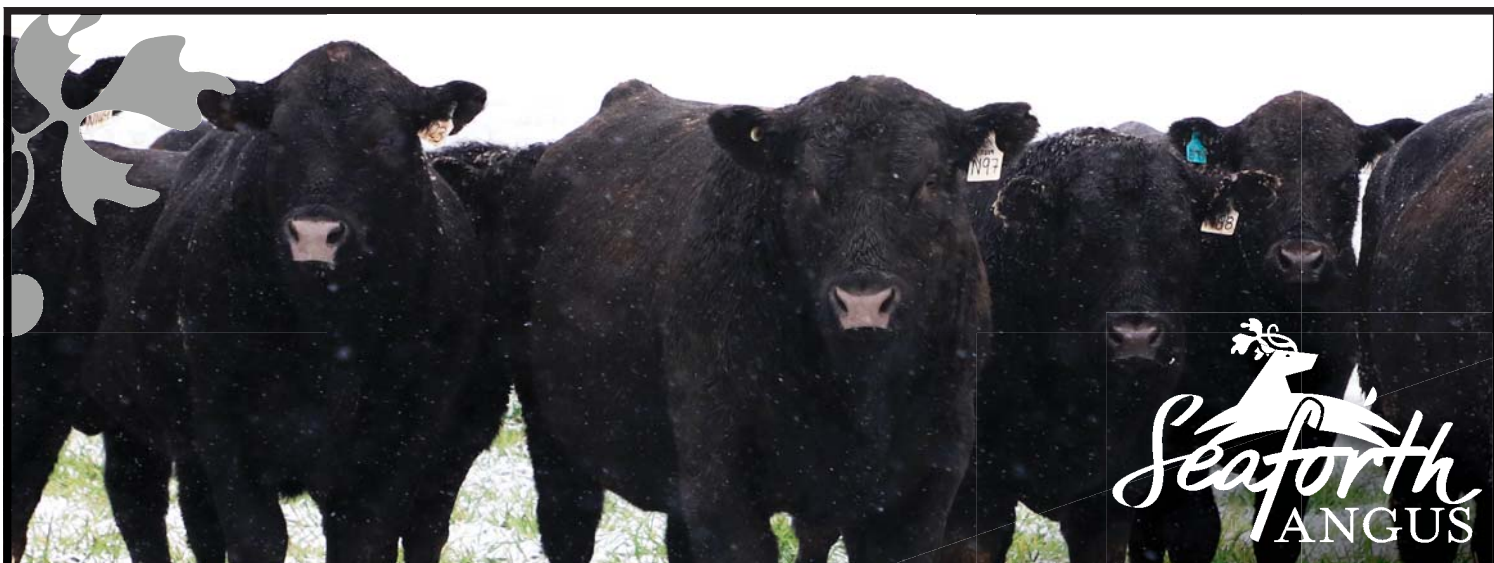

Sarah is expecting the level of soccer to be a step up from what she is used to and will spend as much time on the training field as she can.

"I think there will be some tough competition but it will be good to be up against players from around the world," she said.

Sarah currently trains to almost daily over the next once a week with the Guyra club, but will increase that five months in preparation for the tour.

Outback adventure just days away

The fundraising is over and now Tony Looker and Liz Looker are preparing to head to Broken Hill where they will begin the 2019 Drover's Run Outback Adventure, raising money for the Westpac Rescue Helicopter.

The couple held their final fundraising event at the Royal Hotel on Friday night, adding another $2500 to their total from a wood raffle and auctions. To date they have raised close to $10,000 which will go to this great cause.

They would like to thank everyone who has supported them so far and also all the local businesses for their donations. A big thank you to Woolworths and The Meating Place for donating sausages, Paul for cooking the BBQ, Col Stanley at Guyra Hot Bread Shop for donating bread and Alf Looker for cutting wood for the raffle. They also appreciated the support from the Royal Hotel for allowing them to use their venue and auctioneers Michael Jackson, Wayne Jenkyn and Terry Williams.

The 15-day outback adventure takes drivers through some of Australia's most stunning country beginning on Sunday August 4th. The event will start with a farewell dinner in Broken Hill. The almost 3700km journey travels through the Flinders Ranges, across the Simpson Desert to Big Red and into Birdsville before it returns to Tamworth.

All proceeds from this event go to the Westpac Rescue Helicopter Service, to ensure that no-one ever has to pay to be assisted. You can still support Tony and Liz by donating online droversrun2019.gofundraise.com.au/page/TonyLooker9

A & J Vietnamese opens

Thi Dinh and wife Vy Pham will be cooking up Vietnamese at the Guyra Hotel from this Wednesday

A desire to escape the rat race of the city and provide a better life for their family brought Thi Dinh and wife Vy Pham to Guyra. Originally from Vietnam, they spent 10 years in Sydney before making the decision to escape to the country.

After six months working at the tomato farm, they are consolidating their place in the community by opening a Vietnamese restaurant which will operate from the Guyra Hotel.

A & J Vietnamese Restaurant takes its name from the couple's two children Anthony and Jacob. Thi said that he wanted to get away from the crowds and rush of the city to show them a different way of life.

"I wanted them to experience the real Australian culture and show them a different way of life," he said. "They love it here and so do we because the people are friendly, we love the weather and now we do not want to go back."

Thi believes that Vietnamese food offers a healthier choice than other Asian cuisine.

"We use less oil than Chinese and it is not as spicy as Thai so I think people will really enjoy the difference," he said. "There is also a strong French influence and more salad options."

"For busy people who want a quick lunch the Vietnamese roll is healthy, quick and easy to eat," he said. "In winter when it is cold, our soup is a good to warm you up and there are many tasty dishes for people to try."

Publican Mick Shiner welcomed Thi, and said "he will do well because everyone will like him".

A & J Restaurant will be open Wednesday to Sunday for lunch and dinner. They will be open for business starting Wednesday July 24th.

The drought might be impacting on crop planting throughout the State but Guyra Preschool and Long Day Care Centre is proving it's never too early to sow the seeds of knowledge.

The centre's educators have been running a number of activities to teach the children about the drought and the need to conserve water – with the knowledge these messages are taken home to the children's families.

At the same time, the centre has cut its own water consumption by around 800 litres per day.

Water-efficient taps, using grey water on the preschool's vegetable garden and handwashing practices that ensure water isn't wasted have all contributed to the reduced consumption.

"Environmental sustainability is a central focus of our educational activities, teaching the kids about how their actions can affect the world around them," the preschool's Nominated Supervisor, Amanda Campbell, said.

"In response to the drought, water conservation learning is now woven into our daily activities, whether it's art and craft, story time or washing their hands before eating.

"We also have frequent conversations about Guyra's water issues, including visits by community members to provide further insight."

The centre even has a roster of water monitors in the preschool room, so children have ownership over their own water consumption practices and put their newfound knowledge to work.

While the children are gaining extensive knowledge about the drought and water saving, the message is also going straight to the families through newsletters, displays, free shower timers and the preschool's Facebook page.

Mayor's Message

A blueprint is being developed to make the Armidale region's libraries more vibrant hubs, and community members are seizing the opportunity to provide input to the strategy.

Valuable input to the 21st Century Libraries Strategy has been received through an ongoing series of community forums and hundreds of residents have already completed a survey since the consultation program was launched last week.

The 21st Century Libraries Strategy will identify how we can make the Guyra and Armidale libraries even more valuable resources and meeting places for our community.

It's been fantastic to see around 500 people have completed the online survey in the first week alone and that survey will be open until 30 August. Printed copies of the survey are also available at the two libraries.

The community forums will continue throughout July and August, including general sessions for all interested residents and specific workshops for key groups such as young people, the Aboriginal community and people from linguistically and culturally diverse backgrounds.

I encourage everyone to attend one of the forums, which are a terrific way to share ideas and really brainstorm ways to build upon the wonderful library resources we already have in place and to get the most out of these services.

Participating in one of the two-hour workshops will be a highly worthwhile investment into the future direction of our libraries and the incredible wealth of resources they offer.

One of the strategy's leading objectives is to encourage more people to regularly visit the libraries and make use their services, by making them more relevant and inviting to a wider audience.

For that reason, it is essential the strategy receives plenty of input from people who current do not use or rarely utilise the libraries. What activities, resources or services would they use if they were made available or how could we make the libraries welcome spaces for their learning, work or recreation.

The libraries are assets for the whole community and that needs to be reflected in the strategy. That means we need to hear from as many people as possible and from a wide diversity of residents – of all ages, backgrounds and interests.

The Armidale region is highly fortunate to have two fantastic libraries, with experienced and dedicated staff and an enviable collection of books and other resources.

The 21st Century Libraries initiative is looking at strategic ways to build upon those strengths and identify opportunities to ensure our libraries are vibrant and central to resident's day-to-day lives.

New technologies and evolving community needs and expectations are leading to positive changes to libraries throughout Australia and the world – in the resources and services they provide, their physical spaces and how people are encouraged to use those spaces.

Further information is available on the 21st Century Libraries page of our Your Say Armidale website. Visit the page to complete the survey online or to register your interest in attending one of the workshops. You can also register by contacting staff at the Armidale library on 6770 3636 or the Guyra library on 6770 7123.

Community forums for library strategy

A series of community forums began last week to look at how the Armidale region's libraries can be enhanced as learning and social hubs for the 21st Century.

Council is holding the public workshops to help develop a 21st Century Libraries Strategy, as a blueprint for making the Guyra and Armidale libraries more vibrant hubs where people can learn, join in group activities or just meet friends.

The workshops will identify what people like about the libraries and their existing services - and brainstorm ways to improve and build upon the spaces and resources they provide. A general session will be held at the Guyra Council Chambers on Tuesday July 30th from 1.30pm to 3.30pm.

Chair of Council's Community Wellbeing Advisory Committee, Councillor Debra O'Brien, said that it is essential to hear from people who rarely or never use the Armidale or Guyra libraries, to get a clear picture of what's needed to make them relevant to more residents.

"We want to hear from as many people as possible, of all ages and backgrounds, to help

What do you want to see at the Guyra Library?
Now is your chance to have your say identify ways to encourage a greater proportion of our community to utilise the libraries' resources and spaces," Cr O'Brien said. "This includes current library users and, just as importantly, residents who do not visit our libraries or use their services."

To further encourage a diverse range of input, specific workshops will also be held for youth, members of the Aboriginal community and residents from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.

Interested people are asked to register for one of the workshops by contacting staff at the Armidale library on 6770 3636 or the Guyra library on 6770 7123.

A 21st Century Libraries Strategy online survey is also open, with more than 500 people have already completed the survey. Visit the Your Say Armidale website to compete the survey before Friday August 30th. Printed copies of the survey are also available at the Guyra and Armidale libraries.

A Kinder Surprise

Ramblings by the Guyra Ghost.

Do you ever go to the corner cupboard in your kitchen, look on the top shelf of your wardrobe or just check out the cardboard box in the garage and think "oh, that's where I put Auntie Marie's good plate or I don't remember buying that"? It's been happening a lot to me lately.

De cluttering is a trendy thing to do and it's amazing what you find when you get around to cleaning out various hidey holes. Most of the stuff I've uncovered has only been of mild interest. The usual reason most of us hoard things away is we think It Might Come In Handy, really we should just throw it in the bin. The other classic is for sentimental reasons. I understand this as that's the justification for most of my hoarding. However, having our lives packed away in drawers or boxes seems pointless. I know you're going to say that it's good to have photos or objects as an aid to our memories, but how many aids do we need.

Of course for men, any bits put away in the shed are important and never to be thrown away. This is because the Stuff Will Come In Handy. However, the crucial item is stored in such a safe place that it cannot be found when needed so, a trip to the hardware store is vital to buy a new one. While browsing at the store, a number of other handy and desirable "things", eg, a router, might be purchased. Justifying the purchase back home could be a different matter and lead to an event that we don't want to remember.

Vote for Guyra projects to get go ahead

Three community groups in Guyra are in the running for a share of $24.4m in funding which is being made available through the My Community Project grants program

More than 1800 community groups and individuals across NSW completed applications for the groundbreaking program which allows people to nominate a community project and then vote on which ones are funded. Grants of between $20,000 and $200,000 will be awarded once voting is complete.

The money will be divided amongst electorates across NSW, with projects in the Northern Tablelands competing for their share of around $260,000.

Guyra Junior Rugby League applied to have a grandstand erected at the Guyra Sporting Complex, the Historical Society wants funds to extend the museum and the Campdraft Club want to resurface the Showground.

You can shortlist three projects and then vote in the order you prefer.

They are urging the local community to get behind them, by voting. People must be 16 years of age to vote and can only back projects in their own electorate. Voting is conducted online through a Service NSW account or in person at their nearest Services NSW Centre.

Voting is open from July 15th to August 15th. To vote, you will need to log in to a MyServiceNSW Account – if you do not have an account, sign up on the Service NSW website, call 13 77 88 or visit your nearest Service NSW Centre. You will also need to provide your NSW residential address to confirm your NSW state electorate.

Successful projects will be announced in September 2019 on the My Community Project web page. Successful projects that receive funding will be completed within 12 months. My Community Project is made possible by the NSW Generations Fund, a sovereign wealth fund established in the 2018-19 Budget that is aimed at helping maintain debt at sustainable levels and supporting local community wellbeing.

For further information on My Community Project:
www.nsw.gov.au/mycommunityproject

The Guyra Historical Society has applied for a grant to extend the existing building to create a basement, including a fire-proof room to house important historical documents. The plans include disabled ramp access and a new entrance.

It will enhance the museum as a focal point for local history, allowing family history research. Disabled access will allow the Museum to be more accessible to the whole community. It will help to attract more travellers who camp at the nearby Lagoon, who already show a great interest, especially Grey Nomads/RVs.

Guyra Campdraft Club have applied for a grant to improve the surface of the Showground for horse events. The sand application will provide a safe surface for horses and riders, encouraging return competitors each year. Encouraging additional horse events and a safe surface for competition. It will benefit the town through increased spending at local business and the continued maintenance of the Showground via profits made from these events.

Guyra Junior Rugby League has applied for a community grant for funding for 'All Weather Grandstand Seating' at the Guyra Sporting Complex. The proposed addition to the Sporting Complex will not only be of benefit to Guyra Junior Rugby League but will benefit our whole sporting community and be a fantastic venue for many community events. The proposed addition will also provide Guyra with one of the best sporting facilities in the Northern Tablelands.

Jy has extended his lead over GG, 185-179, on the Locals Leaderboard.

Four of our Locals had a perfect score this week: Bookworm, the 3 Bunnies, Hazel and Bulldog. Congratulations all. The Celebrities did not do so well, but four scored 14 points.

The PIA is in 3rd place on 175 followed by the Red Devils and Hazel on 173.

It's still a tight contest and undoubtedly there will be some unexpected wins in some matches over the next few weeks.

There's only two games in the tussle for the Celebrities Leaderboard between Pharmacist Vu and Publican Mick, 181-177. Ben at IGA is only another two points behind in 3rd place on 175 with Soley on 167.

Neil and B&L lead the left hand column on 161 followed by, believe it or not, the Gazette on 151 and Sue on 141.

Good luck to all this week!

After a few weeks off on holidays, Guyra third grade made it back to back wins after they travelled to Uralla on the weekend.

Mark Robinson started the scoring off with his second goal in two weeks, while Adam Mendes followed with his goal, making the final score Guyra 2, Uralla 0.

We are also hoping to hold a grand re-opening of the refurbished Canteen that weekend with play St Johns Park at 8.30 am. The quarter finals will be Saturday afternoon with the semi and final to be played on Sunday. With two teams going through to playoffs from each section Guyra should have a good chance to make the fi-

Show of heart by Caspers against Inverell

The Caspers took to their home ground on Saturday, against second placed Inverell in what was a very important game. The boys were on song from the kick off, controlling the ball and dominating possession without really pressuring the goals. This came back to bite them when the Inverell side got their share of the ball, opening up their account when their very tall striker rose above all to place his header in the bottom corner in the 20th minute.

The Caspers began to lose their way and were giving up possession from ill placed passes and pressure from their opponents. Frustration started to appear and the Caspers found themselves a man down when Taylor Brennan unluckily received his second yellow card. This saw him ejected from the match and the Caspers were down to 10 men for the rest of the match.

The boys fought valiantly for the remaining 12 minutes of the first half and the score remained 1-0 to Inverell at half time.

Half time talk was surprisingly very positive and the boys were keen to get a result from the second half. With many players being chopped and changed to try and fill the hole left the boys started the second half with gusto and as the half went on actually began to dominate with quick restarts and crisp passing.

As the half went on it looked as though the Caspers hopes would be in vain until a ball came loose outside the box and man of the match Matt Simpson hit a great volley to level the scores with 20 minutes to go.

By this time the Caspers were in all-out attack and completely dominating the Inverell side, even with the extra man, but were unable to finish their opponents off leaving the score 1-1 at full time.

The boys could almost take this as a victory, but they now know they can't wait for something to happen before they start picking up their game.

As mentioned Matt Simpson received the 3, with B.J Cameron (who filled in a few positions) playing his heart out for 2, and B.J Kliendienst who completely dominated the middle getting 1.

The Caspers are away to Ex-Servies this weekend which will be a big test as the boys have had trouble all year with this young side.

After two weeks off for the holidays, Guyra seconds started back with a solid game against Inverell. The game started fast with Guyra's kick off leading straight to a goal from the boot of Matt Sisson.

Inverell then showed why they are a top team by parking themselves at Guyra's end with consecutive corners before finally catching the backs out to level the score.

The first half continued like this until Guyra found the break they needed to get in front again with a penalty outside the box, which was once again put to the back of the net by Matt Sisson bagging himself a double.

The second half saw the scores stay at 2-1 to Guyra, who were unlucky not to put more points on the board with Rheece, Cooper, and Maddi all having close chances. With the game winding into the final minutes Guyra were running out of steam and Inverell capitalised on this and managed to score a late goal in the last 10 seconds to draw the game.

It was a huge effort from the girls and guys of seconds with Matt Sisson earning 3 points for his efforts up front, Cooper Stanley got 2 for a solid game in the mid-field, and Gemma Sisson got 1 point for another solid effort in the backs.
