Winter's playground

Freezing conditions last week saw a welcome boost for local businesses with visitors flocking to the area. They arrived in droves turning parks, sporting fields and roadsides into winter playgrounds.

Accommodation was booked out well in advance of the predicted falls which arrived late on Wednesday June 9th and continued until around midnight on Thursday June 10th.

Snow fell over the higher areas of the tablelands including Guyra, Black Mountain, Ben Lomond, Wandsworth, Glencoe and Glen Innes.

In Guyra light flurries began during the day on Wednesday June 9th, becoming heavier in the evening with snow settling on the ground to a depth of about 4cm. The maximum temperature for the day was 4.4°C.

Thursday saw light snow showers during the day but not settling. Heavier snow arrived in the evening between 9pm and midnight with snow settling to a depth of 8 to 9 cms in town. Rain and higher temperatures in the early hours of the morning

caused the snow to melt

Heavier falls were recorded around Ben Lomond, which saw snow settled to around 12cm on Thursday night. The snow remained on the ground longer at Ben Lomond with some still evident on Saturday. The maximum temperature was 2.4°C

The New England Highway was closed north of Armidale to Glencoe on Wednesday night due to the icy conditions, reopening to traffic mid morning.

Further closures were put in place on Thursday night with the New England Highway closed once again and the Guyra road to the west of town closed due to heavy snow.

Business booms on first snow day of the year

Guyra's business community received a welcome boost from last week's snowfalls. Accommodation houses were booked out up to a week before the event, while others travelled for a day visit or even an hour in the snow.

Much of the action for visitors centred on the Bowling Club and golf course, where between 300 or 400 people gathered to enjoy the snow. They made good use of the club's facilities through the purchase of meals and drinks.

Bowling Club President David Wilcox said that they were well prepared, with snow chasers giving them early warning a week ahead of the event.

"We are more than happy to welcome the visitors and they are generally well behaved," he said. "With the snow falling at night we turned on the lights so everyone could enjoy themselves."

"There were people sleeping in their cars in the carpark and around the golf course, and we opened up early to let them warm up and use the club facilities."

The Guyra Motor Inn was fully booked well before snow started to fall, with the majority of visitors coming down from Queensland. For motel manager Ashleigh Ryan it was all new as she has only been in the position since the beginning of the year.

Guyra Cafe was full to the brim with visitors who came to see the snow

"I didn't expect there would be so much interest, and we absolutely had a blast," she said. "We were overwhelmed with the number of bookings and people who just wanted to come down. I can't wait for the next snow falls to come."

Visitors also flocked to the main street with all café's reporting they were run off their feet for almost three days.

Braidie Vidler from the Guyra café said that they were absolutely smashed, and struggled to keep up with demand. Learning from previous snow events they ordered in extra food and called in extra staff in preparation.

"It was crazy and we were non-stop from Wednesday until Saturday when most of the visitors went home," she said. "Even though we were prepared, we were still surprised because it was much busier than the last time it snowed."

While most businesses reported strong trading, there was disappointment for some.

Businesses at the southern end of the CBD said that the roadworks were a deterrent with only a few venturing their way.

Maples given a reprieve

Nine Red Maples (Acer rubrum) slated for removal during the Guyra main street reconstruction and beautification project will now be retained after concerns were raised by the Guyra community.

The Red Maples in Bradley Street were planted approximately 17 years ago without root protection barriers, a process now widely used in street tree planting to protect infrastructure from damage by tree roots.

Council staff have revisited their decision to remove the nine Red Maples after listening to feedback and opposition to the removal from the Guyra community.

A protest group formed to fight the decision has welcomed the news. The group 'Guyra - Save our Trees' launched a petition and collected 426 signatures in just six days. They also encouraged residents to contact councillors to protest the decision, and their efforts have paid off with council backing down.

Armidale Regional Council Mayor Ian Tiley said the Guyra community have spoken and Council has listened.

"I commend the Guyra community for the passion they have displayed to keep the existing trees as an integral part of the beautification of their main street," said Cr Tiley

"Staff have listened and by working together with the Guyra community have come up with a workable solution. The Red Maples are a beautiful tree that enhances the main street and represents the unique cold climate that Guyra is renowned for and visitors to the region enjoy."

The trees will now remain in place and a new strategy for planting out the remaining garden beds will be reviewed in consultation with the Guyra Garden Club and the Guyra Chamber of Commerce.

Petition to form new LGA

A strategy to form a new Local Government Area (LGA) has emerged as a consequence of growing dissatisfaction and frustration at the aftermath of the Guyra / Armidale forced amalgamation. The proposed new Local Government Area (LGA) is similar in size to the former Guyra Shire Council. It will cover 4960sq kms, (with 450sq kms more than the former Guyra Shire, a bigger rate base and a slightly greater population.) The proposal promises change for better outcomes and is strongly supported by our local member Adam Marshall.

The basis of the proposal is to return representative self-government to Guyra and rural districts, as was the case before May 2016. The forced merger fails both Armidale and Guyra; presenting clear dis-economies of scale. The Armidale Regional Council has failed rural representation, especially representation of Guyra.

"Save and Grow Guyra" group, buoyed by 90% support in a poll at the March 2019 State election, is taking this further. In 2021 interested constituents can renew their commitment in a new petition for a new Local Government Area to be evaluated and considered, the Minister for Local Government. This requires a demonstration of support for a proposal & submission, by at least 10% of the Armidale Regional Council Local Government Area electors (which is two thousand and fifty, 2050 electors.) The intent is to present such a submission, proposal and signed 'letters of support', to The Minister of Local Government, Hon. Shelley Hancock, for her referral, examination and recommendations.

A meeting on 17th of June will launch the 2021 format for Letters of Support (that is a petition) seeking to return democracy to residents by the formation of a new Guyra Local Government Area. The meeting and information session, will be held at the GUYRA BOWLING CLUB, on THURSDAY 17th JUNE at 4PM (to allow residents to also attend the Council's Budget presentation at 5.30pm). For clarity and easy checking, the letters will present as one (1) page for each of those 2050 electors. It is important to note that each signatory must be registered as an elector in the Armidale Regional Council area; must use their correct electoral name and must write their correct electoral address as per the electoral roll (-worth checking in advance! <www.aec.gov.au>)

At the meeting copies of the Letter of Support will be available. An explanation of processes and venues will be given and a request for some volunteers to help distribute and then collect completed pages & assist people who need of help to verify their correct details.

The Letters of Support (petition) read:-

I am an enrolled elector in the Armidale Regional Council Local Area. I support the proposal to separate a new Local Government Area from Armidale Regional Council, in accordance with relevant Sections of the Local Government Act 1993.

I support presentation of this proposal to the NSW Local Government Minister because:-

1. The forced amalgamation of Armidale Dumaresq Council with Guyra Shire Council was undemocratic and deeply unwanted by the local communities.

2. Former Guyra Shire Council provided essential local representation; now lost to its residents.

3. The commercial, environmental, geographic and social history of the two constituent councils have now shown that there is not common interest and purpose.

4. Merging the two councils is proving detrimental to both the Guyra rural community and the Armidale community.

5. Guyra Shire Council was functional and stable, with a focus on local issues.

6. Guyra Shire Council was frugal and efficient in its financial management.

It is my wish to have self-government restored to meet the needs of the rural communities of Guyra and District. Your Full name, full address, date and signature

Costa hosts first Community Reference Group meeting

Costa hosted its first meeting of its Community Reference Group last week.

The Costa Tomato Exchange Community Reference Group has been established to promote open and active communication between the community in Guyra and the surrounding areas and Costa.

Discussion included ideas for possible future tours of the new site, the recent launch of the Costa Sustainability Report, employment trends and community sponsorship opportunities.

The community members are Dot Vickery, the Reverend Andrew Campbell and David Bearup.

The group is independently chaired by Susan Frater-Sims, with Costa members Peter Davis and Brigid Veale.

“We are delighted to have members of our local community involved and look forward to working collaboratively over the coming year,” Peter said.

“With around 650 people employed across our two sites at Elm Street and the New England Highway, we are a major employer and take our responsibility to the community very seriously.”

Peter said the $80 million expansion

It was lovely to have our parents come along to help us celebrate Reconciliation Week with our students and staff. The morning started with parents and friends visiting the classrooms to see student's learning inaction. Shylah Cutmore did our Welcome to Country with the assistance of Tremane Patterson. This was followed by a beautiful picnic morning tea of scones and jam and an assortment of sandwiches. Thank goodness we had lovely weather for this most momentous occasion. Thank you everyone who attended.

TroutFest baits its hooks for 2021

This year the TroutFest committee is planning a different program to fit COVID requirements but the popular children's fishing clinic will hopefully go ahead on the Saturday as well as the hugely popular weekend of open gardens.

The committee is keen to get input from retailers for what it believes is a very exciting new approach for the businesses of Guyra. Given that the twin aims of the festival is to put Guyra on the map as a trout fishing destination and to bring business to town by attracting people from all over, getting people into the main street is a priority. We hope to have events at many locations in the centre of town. We've already received two fantastic suggestions from different retailers showing the creativity that's possible when many heads get together.

The committee would therefore like to invite all retailers, artists, entertainers and especially people with ideas and enthusiasm for our town of Guyra, to a public discussion on Monday July 5th. Come and join the TroutFest committee or just bring your input and ideas to our brainstorming session July 5th. Time and venue to be announced.

This year's festival will be the third weekend of October (16th) pending input from the Guyra Anglers Club.

Ebor's tourist amenities to be upgraded

More than $20,000 in upgrades will be made to the Ebor's tourist campground under funding from the Australian Government's Stronger Communities Program.

Member for New England Barnaby Joyce said the $20,000 grant to Ebor Tourism and Development Association will help upgrade plumbing at the campground's ablution building and install three solar street lights for the benefit of visitors.

"The spectacular Ebor Falls draws many tourists to this part of the New England every year and an increasing number are hearing about this great little campground nearby," Mr Joyce said.

"This grant will help the upgrade local amenities to ensure visitors to our region keep coming back year after year."

The Ebor grant forms part of the $22.65 million Round 6 of the Stronger Communities

Program where up to $150,000 was made available for all 151 federal electorates across the country, including the New England. Organisations were eligible for grants of between $2,500 and $20,000 for small capital projects that deliver social benefits for local communities.

For this funding round, grants will cover up to 100 per cent of eligible project costs as a special provision to support Australia's economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic.

"It is important that we fund not only the big money projects in the New England but the smaller ones too because they are the ones that keep our communities connected," Mr Joyce said.

An additional $28.2 million was provided in the 2021-22 Budget to extend the Stronger Communities Programme to a seventh round of the program.

Guyra Sheep & Lamb Sale

June 9th - There was a total yarding of 3800, a small reduction in lamb numbers, while sheep supplies almost halved. The quality of the lambs was generally good. Condition varied with processors and restockers well catered for. There was extra restocker competition however not all regular processors were in attendance.

The increased restocker competition resulted in lambs returning to the paddock selling to a dearer trend for the most part.

There were strong gains on the lighter weights, while the heavier weights saw moderate improvement. Lambs to process met with weaker demand to sell to cheaper trends. The heaviest weight classes were most affected with reduced competition.

There was reduced processor competition in the sheep market, however there was more activity from restockers. Market trends were cheaper throughout. Merino sheep skin values improved.

Weekly Wool Sales

June 11th - With the West coast of Australia not selling this week the national offering reduced to just over 36,000 bales. Prices were dearer from the outset and this continued into the final selling day.

A stable exchange rate and increasing interest challenging the recent Chinese dominance is helping drive the market higher. Unlike the last few weeks the rise in the market was more widespread and uniform. In general most categories experienced a 4% lift in prices with the headline market indicators closing at 15 month highs.

34,811 bales were sold nationally for the week with a passed in rate well below the seasonal average at just 4.1%.

Major buyers included Fox & Lille. Kathaytex and Techwool with a good spread of buying interest across the various sectors. With only 3 selling weeks to go before the seasons end weekly offering figures remain greatly inflated to that of last season, as new wool and older (held wool) continue to hit the market.

Forward market prices increased but not to the extent of the physical and they traded at a discount to this week's close. This is understandable as the finer type's edge closer to the top 10% of values achieved over the past 25 years.

Trio selected for AAGPS duties

Guyra's Sam Skipper is one of three students from The Armidale School who has been mixing it with some of the best young rugby players in the state pulling on jerseys for Combined AAGPS teams.

Year 12 students Sam Skipper from Guyra and Tom Forsythe from Scone were selected into the Combined AAGPS White (Third XV) rugby team and spent the week training in Sydney at The King's School before playing in the NSW Country Under 18s on June 10th. Skipper, plays at prop and was last year selected for a NSW Waratahs Next Gen development camp.

Meanwhile Fred Kearney, 15, from Coonabarabran, has been selected in the Presidents XV (Combined AAGPS under 16s) squad

TAS students Tom Forsythe, Sam Skipper and Fred Kearney before hitting the rugby field alongside some of the best young players in Sydney

Ladies' Golf

Last week there was no golf because of the wintry conditions. This week the ladies are playing a Stroke and Putting competition. Next week is a Canadian Foursomes sponsored by Juneils. Karen Oehlers is the starter.

Recently some ladies played in the NEGDA Penants Competition in Armidale. The next round is in Walcha. The results are awfully close with only a few points the difference between Walcha, Armidale, and Guyra.
