Lagoon comes to life

View from the western side of the lagoon looking east

Winter rains have refilled the Mother of Ducks Lagoon, resulting in an influx of birdlife and providing added interest for visitors to the region. Guyra has received above average rainfall this year with 210mm falling since the beginning of June.

Run off over recent weeks has replenished water levels in the lagoon to the highest they have been since 2011. It follows an extended period of low rainfall following the 2019 drought, which saw peat fires and extremely low water levels.

The Mother of Ducks Lagoon provides habitat for native waterbirds and terrestrial birds, as well as frogs, reptiles and some mammals. Sixteen threatened bird species have been observed as well as many migratory birds listed under various international agreements.

Mat Makeham, Team Leader Ranger for NPWS New England, said that the rising water levels will bring in wider variety of birds. At this time of year, there will be quite a lot of swans and ducks getting ready to breed. There will also be an abundance of small waders out and about.

Mr Makeham said that the best place to view the birdlife is from the mowed section of the levee bank on the eastern side of the lagoon and the observation deck.

NPWS has a management plan for the lagoon, with the overall aim to return the lagoon's hydrology back to its natural state as far as practical given the modern urban environment.

Part of this management plan is to upgrade the existing pipes from the golf course dams through the levee wall which is where water would naturally sit for a long time.

Police urge compliance with health orders

Police are reminding regional communities of the importance of complying with all public health orders after a number of venues of concern were identified by NSW Health.

Two recent incidents have brought the impact of the current COVID situation close to home.

Just before 11am on Friday July 16, police stopped a Mitsubishi Lancer on the New England Highway, south of Guyra, and spoke to the driver, a 20-year-old man, and his male passenger. Inquiries revealed they men were from the Central Coast. They were each issued $1,000 Penalty Infringement Notice's.

On Monday July 19, it was revealed that a person who later tested positive had visited Coffs Harbour. The area was put on high alert with people turning out in numbers to get tested.

Officers will continue to have a high-visibility presence across NSW to help stop the spread of COVID-19 and keep the community safe.

Deputy Commissioner, Mick Willing, Regional NSW Field Operations, said it had never been more important for regional areas to abide by all restrictions.

"We have seen a number of venues in regional NSW visited by confirmed cases over the past week," said Deputy Commissioner Willing.

"The reason restrictions are in place in regional NSW is to protect those communities from a potential seeding event. We need your help to do this."

Officers from Traffic and Highway Patrol Command and the Police Transport Command will continue to patrol roadways and transport hubs across the state.

Employment opportunities

Your country needs you to get vaccinated

Last week Northern Tablelands MP Adam Marshall rolled has up his sleeve to receive his first jab of COVID-19 vaccine and has issued a challenge to the community – ‘get vaccinated now or risk ongoing extensive lock-downs.’

“With the Delta-variant of COVID-19 spreading at an alarming rate, at this stage in the pandemic it’s clear, if you are not already, your country needs you to get vaccinated now,” Mr Marshall said.

“As far as I’m concerned the entire adult population of NSW, unless they have an underlying health condition, is now eligible for a jab and should be taking every possible step to get one.

“If you are aged 18 to 59 you can contact your doctor today and have a suitability assessment to receive the AstraZeneca or Pfizer vaccines, as soon as an appointment is available.

This is a message that is being reinforced by local GP Dr Jey at

‘V’ for vaccination – Northern Tablelands MP Adam Marshall received his first vaccination jab last week

the Guyra Medical Centre, who says that there is plenty of vaccine available in the local community and they just need people to roll up their sleeves.

Dr Jey said that they have already administered 670 first doses of AstraZeneca. 170 of those have returned for their second dose and he expects more to return as they come due. A further 250 people have received the Pfizer since it became available.

While he is pleased with the numbers, he believes there are many people who could have the vaccine, but have been putting it off.

Dr Jey is now encouraging everyone who is eligible to come forward as the way out of the current restrictions and to provide protection if you do come into contact with someone who has COVID.

“We have plenty of vaccine available and want everyone who has been putting it off to get the vaccine as soon as they are eligible,” he said. “We want to see everyone in the community vaccinated as soon as possible.

“As long as you meet the guidelines from the government, we are here to get the job done so we can get back to normal.”

To receive your vaccination phone the Guyra Medical Centre 6738 4070 to make an appointment. Vaccinations are available throughout the week and they will also conduct a vaccination clinic this Sunday from 10am.

Creative Arts Activities

In the coming weeks, students at Black Mountain Public School will be busy preparing for Education Week celebrations. Students will be performing music items, co-ordinating our own version of the Archibald Prize show and participating in other exciting activities.

Our school has an extensive creative arts program on offer for all and provides students with the opportunity to showcase their art works. Last term, Seth Patterson was successful in having his artwork hung at the New England Regional Art Museum.

In collaboration with teachers from the New England Conservatorium of Music, we offer individual music tuition and choir tuition each week. Our students are benefiting greatly from expert musicians sharing their love of the arts and creativity.

Have Your Say.....

I address this letter to the Rail Trail Committee, the Mayor of Armidale Council, and the Mayor of Glen Innes Council. I would like to say straight off— where do you get the right to say you have the community on side with this ludicrous idea of a Rail Trail?

Number one- you have not consulted with us personally to get our reaction to this proposal. Having retired to BenLomond and, for the past three years, no-one has ever approached us with this proposal. Mr. Mills, where do you and your committee get the right to tell our community what YOU want for our village?

We don't come to Guyra and tell you what you need. You say “due diligence has been done and you have ticked all the boxes”. Well you haven't ticked ours, and you say you are extremely grateful for the support of the community - which community?

There are good roads off the Highway from Black Mountain to Guyra: Guyra to Llangothlin; Llangothlin to Ben Lomond; Ben Lomond to Glencoe. The “trail” already exists, so why is all this money to be wasted, destroying the rail corridor. If this is such a great tourist attraction, where are the cyclists now?

Mayor Tiley and Mayor Sparks, your councils have, also, not consulted with us enough. The community has changed in the six or so years since your last approach. There needs to be more consultation.

We are busy fighting a wind farm proposal, and one of our main issues is “NO SOCIAL LICENCE”, and we feel that both councils are doing the same to Ben Lomond as Meridian Energy (Rangoon Windfarm) — bulldozing your proposal on to us. How much is this rail trail going to cost the rate payers in the communities involved to get this scheme across the line? , as it will probably cost more than your projected costings.

A public meeting in Ben Lomond and more consultation would be appreciated.

Barry and Jann Litchfield.

Rural Market Reports

Weekly Wool Sales

July 16th - Whilst the market closed on a positive note last week the Northern region was not selling on the final day. It had some ground to catch up and this was evident from the commencement of sales.

All categories besides the Merino carding indicator finished the first day dearer with the Northern region indicator gaining 13 cents. The second day of sales was more about consolidation with only small changes being reported. The exception was the 28 micron indicator that gained 30 cents on consecutive days or a 13% rise for the week.

42,441 bales were sold nationally for the week with a passed in rate of 12.1%. Major buyers included Techwool, PJ Morris and Tianyu. Just over 100,000 bales have been offered for the first two weeks of the season this is 51% higher than the start of the previous season.

Forward market prices remained bullish this week with 21 micron contracts changing hands 20 cents over the physical close for Spring maturity. Sales are now in the annual three week recess period. Heading into this with a solid last week of sales is always a positive and with parts of the world reopening from a prolonged slumber retail spending should start to tick over again. This report will resume on the 13th of August.

Demand high for face masks

Since the introduction of new regulations due to the threat posed by the Delta variant of COVID-10, one local seamstress has been extra busy. When the requirement to wear face masks was introduced two weeks ago Robin Godlonton ramped up production using her own design, which she has been making since last year.

Her design is for a closely fitted mask, preventing any gaps. She has masks suitable for men, ladies, teens, kids 7 to 12 years and kids 3 to 6 years. These face masks are made from two layers of prewashed cotton fabric plus two layers of iron on Vylene which is the protective part of the face mask. They also feature wire across the nose for a better fit to the face and have adjustable 3mm elastic around the ears.

Robin Godlonton has been sewing up a storm to meet demand for face coverings

Robin's masks come in Navy, Black and Grey for Men, with a large variety of fabric colours and prints available for Ladies, Teens and kids. They sell for $15 each, with postage and handling extra $2.50 if needed.

You can order masks by contacting Robin Godlonton on 0428791992 or email godlonton@bigpond.com. Her masks are also available for sale at the Rainbow Room.

Rainbow Room owner Jypsi Hooper said that demand for masks has been high and she has been opening extra hours to meet demand. Since the regulations came into effect she has sold 150 masks. She currently has four people, including Robin, making masks and they are definitely her biggest seller at the moment.

An added benefit is that it has brought new people into her shop, and they are often surprised to see that she has a wide range of stock suitable for all ages. Opening hours vary, so follow her on facebook for more details.

$5,636 delivers new technology for museum

HUNDREDS of priceless historical items from Guyra's past will be better protected thanks to a $5,636 State Government grant to purchase a new computer and remote close-circuit television (CCTV) equipment.

Since 2018, $120,346 in NSW Government funding has been provided to upgrade the 113 year old original council chambers building on Bradley Street.

These works have included internal and external painting, installation of new flooring, side and back doors, display cases, security system, ultraviolet protection film on all windows, and hanging tracks.

The additional grant would allow Guyra and District Historical Society to maximise use of its CCTV system and provide digital history services to the community.

Member for Northern Tablelands Adam Marshall said that the Guyra Historical Museum is a wonderful treasure trove with many items held there of local, regional and even national importance.

"This year the society's volunteers completed the mammoth museum renovation, including the addition of CCTV," Mr Marshall said.

"In order to maximise use of this technology a new monitor will be installed in the office and research room, along with an internet connection to allow remote viewing of the network when the alarm is triggered.

"This will remove the need for volunteers to attend the museum at night when the system is activated by movement.

President of Guyra and District Historical Society Martha Weiderman said a new computer would make operating the museum more efficient.

"Currently all technology used to scan and print historical documents is provided at a cost by Guyra Adult Learning Association (GALA)," Ms Weiderman said.

"Having our own computer to scan, print or photocopy material on-site will save time and money.

"We also have two historical journals currently being researched and written. A new computer with internet connection will allow us to carry out research while on duty at the museum.

"I want to thank Adam and the State Government for supporting the upgrade of the museum, a building whose collection means so much to the local community."

Bowls Club Championship games

Sunday July 18th saw a number of Club Championships played. In the Final of the Club Pairs Evan Sole and Roger Cox played Boyd Stanley and Scott Campbell, this was a typical final with neither team willing to give an inch and by end 11 there was only one shot separating the two teams. Scott and Boyd managed to open a slender lead only to see it disappear and again by end 19 the gap between the two teams was only 2 shots. End 20 saw Scott and Boyd get one shot opening the gap to 3 shots and with only one end left to play Evan and Roger gave their opposition the scare of their lives but only able to score 2 shots. Scott and Boyd staggered over the line 18 shots to 17 shots over 21 ends.

In the Final of the Minor Singles Barry Campbell played Barry Walls, in this game they traded the lead on several occasions and the game was in doubt right up to the last bowl. On end 33 Barry Campbell had a chance to clinch the game but Barry Walls had other ideas and won the 34th end, Barry Campbell won the next end and only wanting 1 shot to take victory, but as all bowlers getting that 1 shot is the hardest endeavour of all. Barry Walls was able to win the next 2 ends and draw even at 30 shots all despite Barry Campbell drawing on all his experience saw the game slip away. Barry Walls was able to win the game 31 shots to 30 shots over 38 ends of hard bowls.

The Semi Final of the Major Singles saw Dan Kennedy play John McIlwain. In this game the lead changed a number of times before Dan settled and slowly forged ahead and was never headed after end 14. Dan managed to keep John on 13 shots for 4 ends, 14 shots for 3 ends and 16 shots for 6 ends and as a result he surged ahead and took the victory 31 shots to 16 shots over 25 ends.

A game of Major/Minor Pairs was also played between the teams of Logan Beechey and Mallie Walls and the team of Greg Mitchell and Col Stanley.

Mallie and Logan galloped out of the blocks early and managed to open an unassailable lead. Col and Greg managed a slight comeback but the hoarse had bolted and Mallie and Logan went on to take the win 31 shots to 22 shots over 25 ends.

Boyd Stanley and Scott Campbell took out the Club Pairs

Club Championship games set down for this Saturday July 24th: start: 12.00pm. Starter and Umpire: Scott Campbell.

Major/Minor Pairs: Roger Cox and Boyd Stanley to play Cameron Peardon and Robert Moore.

Final Major Singles: Dan Kennedy to play Mallie Walls marker Scott Campbell

Bowlers you are reminded to abide by the COVID 19 that apply at the Club, both inside and outside. Good Bowling.

It was a high scoring round this week with 6 Locals tipping complete rounds and Farmer Joe achieving her highest score of the season.

Congratulations to Lucy's Choice, The Intern (or really the "young fella"!), Hazel, The 3 Bunnies (well done young man), The Swimmer and Bulldog.

The Celebrities, however, could only achieve a few 14 point scores.

Only two Celebrities have managed to break through the double century with Harry in the lead on 218 and Vu in 2nd place on 204.

The Star and Nightwatchman remain top of the Locals Leaderboard with only the Red Devils slipping a bit to join Eel-be-Right in 4th place.

The rest of the field are not far behind and anyone could still come through the ranks for a podium finish.

Old rivals set to clash

Old rivals are due to meet at the New Red Hill on Saturday when the Super Spuds host Armidale.

In the spirit of big Guyra-Armidale clashes of the past, the club is celebrating Old Boys' Day, but also looking to the future.

Guyra's juniors will be in action in the morning, before the leaguetag kicks off at 12.30pm.

The outstanding Guyra under 15s side will then get the chance to be the main curtain-raiser to the men's game.

Last time the clubs met the Spuds scored a comfortable win in Armidale, but the Rams sit higher on the table.

The Spuds need to win to climb the ladder and stay in the hunt for the finals.

There will be raffles, can-teen and bar on Saturday, but strict Covid rules apply, meaning all spectators must wear a mask and sign in at the gate.

Rain has prevented the

Taylor Brennan in action in the Spud's last outing against Armidale

Spuds from playing in recent weeks and there is a threat of more wet weather this week.

Keep updated on the Guyra Super Spuds Facebook page.
