Posthumous award for Guyra aviator

Eighty years after his service in the skies of occupied Europe during the Second World War, a Guyra born Air Force aviator has been posthumously awarded the Commendation for Gallantry.

Pilot Officer Justin 'Joe' Mulligan flew Mosquito fighter bombers on 60 missions with 464 Squadron RAAF, sharing the plane with Warrant Officer William 'Billy' Kinloch who also received the same award.

Tragically, Joe Mulligan and Billy Kinloch would not survive the war to see their loved ones and tell their story. Early on January 13, 1945, their Mosquito crashed near the German border with Belgium. Both men were 22 years old. Three years later, their bodies were found and interred in a war cemetery at Rheinberg in Germany.

A lifetime after the war's end, relatives of Justin recently accepted a posthumous Commendation for Gallantry on his behalf at Government House in Sydney. The commendation recognised acts of gallantry in action over two tours of operational service with 464 Squadron.

Justin Newberry accepted his namesake uncle's award at a ceremony in September. He is the son of Sheila (nee Mulligan) and Jack Newberry and was born in April 1945 whilst his uncle was listed as missing presumed killed.

Mr Newberry said his uncle

worked as a woolclasser and grazier before enlisting in June 1942 and enjoyed embarkation leave and Christmas with his family in Guyra in December 1942. It was the last time they saw him.

Growing up Mr Newberry only knew of his uncle as having been killed in action, and that it caused immense sadness within the Mulligan family. On the death of his Aunt Kathleen a book came into his possession that sparked a voyage of discovery that has lasted more than 20 years.

The book was 'The Gestapo Hunters', a history of No. 464 Squadron during World War 2. It led him to research the exploits of his uncle with the help of his wife Kaye.

Career Expo at Guyra Central School

Wednesday November 6th was a remarkable day for the students at the Guyra Central School Careers Expo, which provided a unique opportunity to explore a diverse range of career options.

The expo featured a total of 20 exhibitors, including representatives from local emergency services. Students were able to fully engage with the event, gathering valuable information about potential career pathways, educational requirements, and job opportunities.

Additionally, students had access to information from registered training providers, as well as opportunities related to apprenticeships and traineeships, specifically tailored to the job market in the New England region.

“It was wonderful to receive positive feedback from our stallholders, who praised our students for their impressive maturity and attentiveness during the expo. Many stallholders expressed that it was a pleasure to be part of the event.

“To enhance the enjoyment of the event, students had the opportunity to come to school dressed as their ‘Future Self.’ It was fascinating to see how our students envision their lives after school, and it will be intriguing to find out if they pursue the paths they’ve imagined for themselves in the future.”

“A special thank you to Mrs. Kylie Adams for coordinating this exceptional experience for our students, and a heartfelt thanks to the stallholders for dedicating their time to attend and contribute to this valuable experience.”

Stallholders were Community Power Agency, Essential Energy, UNE Future Students’ Team, UNE School of Nursing, New England Community College, Southern New England Landcare, EPP, Rural Fire Service, Guyra Fire Brigade, GALA, Guyra & District Veterinary Services, Nutrien, Schute Bell, Deano’s Trout Farm, Guyra Show Society, Costa, Armidale Regional Council, Guyra Preschool and Long Day Care Centre, Elders, and Local Land Services.

Work progressing on old Scout hall

Member for Northern Tablelands Brendan Moylan has inspected progress of works on the former Guyra Scout Hall with members of the Rotary Club, who have taken over the management of the facility.

The hall is getting a new look thanks to a $145,079 grant from the NSW Government's Crown Reserve Improvement Fund.

"It is important to improve and maintain facilities such as the old Guyra Scout Hall for clubs like the Rotary Club of Guyra and the wider community to use," Mr Moylan said.

"Communities in the region need facilities to use as hubs for community groups and projects which keep the community spirit alive.

"The current state of the hall is in no shape for these groups to use. Repairs are needed across the board, including electrical, a disability access ramp, plumbing, painting, and bathroom facilities.

"I commend the Rotary Club for their efforts into bringing the Hall back to life."

The Guyra Scout Hall is made using two 1940s buildings from the former Everett School and Moggs Swamp Schools, which were joined in the 1970s.

The Rotary Club of Guyra's president Hans Hietbrink said once the hall is renovated, it will be fantastic for community use.

"The funding will be spent on refurbishing and renovating the hall to bring it up to a standard that is fit for purpose," Mr Hietbrink said.

"Rotary plans to use the hall for its meetings and for storing and sorting books for Book Fairs. In addition, it would be available for use by community groups or organisations for meetings.

"It is hoped the project can be completed by June 2025, however this will be dependent on availability of relevant trades people to carry out the works."

Applications for the 2024-25 Crown Reserves Improvement Fund are now open and close on November 22nd. Visit reservemanager.crownland.nsw.gov.au/funding

Over time he met with surviving members of the squadron, and their families. Among the stories they shared was a daring raid undertaken on the Gestapo Headquarters in Aarhus. The mission led to the airmen being gifted gold cufflinks by the King of Denmark in gratitude. The cufflinks are now a treasured possession of Mr Newberry.

Several 464 Squadron aviators received Imperial Awards like the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) for their service. Mr Newberry believes the squadron's relocation to France in February 1945, followed by the war's end, led to Mulligan and Kinloch's service not being likewise awarded.

The Directorate of Honours and Awards researched the pair's service, and recommended the Commendation for Gallantry be awarded.

"Justin went from putting around the farm on a tractor to flying dangerous missions at low level in one of the fastest planes in the world,"

Pilot Officer Justin Mulligan and Warrant Officer William Kinloch with a DeHavilland Mosquito fighter bomber in 1944.

Mr Newberry said. "Not bad for a bloke from Guyra."

"I started to ask questions in 2017 of the Honours and Awards about the possibility of having Justin Mulligan and Bill Kinloch awarded the DFC, which their families were told they had earned," Mr Newberry said. "I was elated that after all those years, they were to be recognised.

"I know that Justin Mulligan would have appreciated being recognised, I am proud to have achieved this outcome for him."

Glen Innes takes step forward on Rail Trail

Glen Innes Severn Council (GISC) last week announced a significant step forward in delivering the New England Rail Trail by executing a licence agreement with the Transport Holding Entity of NSW through its contractor UGL to facilitate access to the rail corridor.

After almost 12 months of negotiations with UGL, the agreement authorises GISC to enter the corridor to undertake the survey and investigation works necessary to complete the onsite investigation works required under the NSW Rail Trails Framework, including environmental assessment.

GISC is still awaiting a response to its request in April to amend the project scope, to end the initial stage in Glencoe instead of Ben Lomond. In considering this request, the Department of Primary Industries and Development has advised it is undertaking a project viability review as it is with a number of other projects funded under the same program.

GISC Mayor Cr Margot Davis said that council has worked hard to meet all the requirements necessary to progress the project.

"In addition to the economic impact of the construction phase on the community, the initial studies for the project outlined the long-term benefits of the project to the community which will be felt for decades to come," Cr Davis said.

"In fact, the viability of the project has only improved significantly since the original economic analysis was undertaken given the significant growth in rail trail users across Australia and the increasing role rail trails are playing in driving overnight visitors.

"This project is vital to diversifying our economy and building visitation to the region, Council is ensuring it does everything possible on behalf to the community to keep it on track," Cr Davis concluded.

This $8.7M project will be the largest economic/community project undertaken by GISC.

Recent activities have included,

- Receiving a letter of support from the local state member
- Allocating Council funds in order to progress initial works.
- Undertaking a further community survey earlier this year as requested.
- Noting the formation of a local support group for the Rail Trail.
- Liaising with Local Land Services and adequately addressing any biosecurity concerns.

Remembrance Day Ceremony

The students at Black Mountain Public School united in honouring all who died or suffered in wars, conflicts and peace operations in a Remembrance Day Ceremony on Monday, the 11th day of November 2024 at 11am.

The ceremony was led by our Year 6 Leaders as we paused in silence to acknowledge the sacrifices made in service of our country. On this day and always, we remember them.

School leaders lunch with local member

Student leaders from local schools met with Member for Northern Tablelands Brendan Moylan last week.

The annual gathering, which was held at Rafter's Diner, is a longstanding tradition, enabling the next generation of leaders to connect with their local member of parliament

"It was a pleasure to attend the annual Snowgums School Student Leaders Lunch," Mr Moylan said.

"I got to chat with school leaders from Bald Blair, Ebor, Chandler, Ben Lomond, Black Mountain and Guyra.

"With such capable young leaders, the future of the Northern Tablelands is looking bright!"

Applications open for Heritage grants

Applications are now open for the 2025-27 NSW Heritage Grants Round with grants from $10,000 to $300,000 (matched funding) on offer.

Individuals, businesses, local government, and not-for-profit organisations who are the owner, manager, long-term lessee, or custodian of an item listed on the State Heritage Register can apply for the latest round of funding

The Hon Aileen MacDonald OAM MLC said that preserving, maintaining and conserving our heritage is critical to ensuring the longevity of these heritage protected items in our community.

"Perfect examples of these heritage protected sites include Armidale's Westpac building the Imperial Hotel, the Post Office, and the former Courthouse," Ms MacDonald said.

"In Guyra, the railway station is a heritage listed former railway station and now a machinery museum on the Main Northern Railway Line.

"The aim of this program is about making sure our State listed heritage items can be given the resources they need to be kept for future generations."

Applications are currently open and close at 10am on 30 January 2025 27-caring-for-state-heritage For more information and to apply, visit <https://www.nsw.gov.au/arants-and-funding/2025>

Rural Market Reports

Weekly Wool Sales

November 8th - Wool sales were conducted over three days this week due to the public holiday in Melbourne on Tuesday.

A 3 cent rise in the Northern region indicator on Tuesday was followed by a further 4 cent increase on Wednesday. Melbourne was the only centre selling on Thursday and in a positive sign for next week the market continued to make small gains.

Results were not uniform across the individual micron categories with 17.5 micron and finer types going slightly backwards and 18.5 micron and broader types gaining ground.

33,695 bales were sold nationally for the week with the improved market lowering the passed in rate to just 4.8%.

Major buyers included PJ Morris, Techwool and Endeavour Wool who between them purchased almost 50% of the national Merino fleece offering. AWTA test data for the first 4 months of the season is showing an 8.1% reduction in the volume of bales tested nationally.

AWEX auction data differs quite largely with a 19.3% reduction in the number of bales offered for sale. Weekly auction offerings are remaining around the mid 30,000 bale figure well below the corresponding period last season

Armidale Cattle Sale

November 11th – A total of 920 head yarded, Averaging $1171.39 per head and 281.68 c/kg. There was an increase in numbers in what was a very mixed quality penning.

Light weight young cattle well supplied with limited supplies of medium and heavy weights. There were quite a few older cattle penned, mostly heifers while there was a very mixed quality penning of cows.

The usual processors were in attendance well supported by local restockers. Comparing to the sale of a fortnight ago the lightest of the yearling steers to restock sold on a firm to slightly cheaper trend. The heavier weight classes however sold to dearer trends. Restocker demand saw all classes of yearling heifers sell to dearer trends.

Strong competition from processors through the grown cattle with well finished heavy grown steers selling to dearer trend while the well finished heifers followed similar trends. There were quite a few secondary quality heifers penned that also sold to dearer trends to both feedlot orders and processors.

The very mixed quality penning of cows attracted strong processor competition with all classes selling to dearer trends. The well finished heavy weights improved by as much as 10c/kg. Well finished heavy bulls sold to a slightly dearer trend.

Shooting and showjumping success

On November 8th, Guyra Central School student Charlie Ward participated in the Northern NSW Schools DTL shoot held in Tamworth. These events provide an opportunity for students to engage in a day of DTL clay target shooting, alongside peers from various schools.

Charlie had an exceptional day, achieving 2nd place in the AA double barrel championship, 1st place in the AA single barrel championship, and being the overall winner in both the point score and double rise championships.

Additionally, Charlie excelled in the team events, where three participants from the same school or those who are the only representatives from their school can join forces for an overall point score. She also secured the titles of Overall High Gun at the Northern NSW School Carnival and the Cherie Hunter Memorial Ladies High Gun.

"It was a great honour to win these awards, and I am very thankful to receive the Memorial Ladies High Gun as it holds significant meaning for the Tamworth Gun Club," Charlie said.

Charlie also recently represented Australia in Show Jumping and Dressage during a competition in China. She was one of four athletes selected for the Australian Team, competing against teams from Ireland, South Africa, New Zealand, and China.

Over her 19-day stay in China.

Charlie rode numerous horses, including one that competed in the World Cup in Europe, jumping heights of 1.60 meters. She returned home with immense pride, having won a gold medal as an individual competitor.

Her individual results also included a bronze medal, along with placements of 7th and 11th. As part of the team, her contributions resulted in 2 bronze medals, 3 silver medals, and placements of 4th and 5th.

"It was the most amazing time, and a great opportunity for a rider who is passionate about this sport," Charlie said.

Vets Golf

Last Tuesday was Melbourne cup and we ran the usual two person Ambrose. Numbers were well down this year, seems like a sign of the times, but those of us that played had a great day.

We were all given a mystery trifecta each but I don't think there were any winners amongst us. Some of the boys bought some snacks from the bistro and they looked great.

Warren and Ray were the lucky winners of the golf and we all enjoyed a great afternoon in the club all with our expert opinion on who would win the race.

Next Tuesday is an individual stableford plus putting comp. See you then.

Men's Golf

The Doug Waters day will be rescheduled to a different time after Christmas as it clashed with the Guyra Cup and other things.

This weekend is the Brian Lennon Memorial Golf 2 man Ambrose day. This is always a very popular competition for golf so we ask all men, women and children to come along and enjoy a great day with great prizes.

We are also chasing interested golfers who are available for the District golf. This year it is held in Tenterfield on Sunday 1st of December. HAPPY GOLFING

S.K.

'Red Beryl' wins 2024 Guyra Cup

The Armidale racecourse was picture perfect on Sunday for the running of the Watson McNamara & Watt Guyra Cup. There were seven races on the day, proudly supported by Guyra businesses.

The course benefitted from storm rain in the lead up, and there was a splash of colour thanks to the New England Garden Festival committee who loaned the petunia displays at either end of the finishing line.;

The feature event on the day was the Guyra Cup which was won by 'Red Beryl', ridden by Shannen Llewellyn. The horse is trained by Armidale's Jane Clement, who is currently sitting on top of the NSW Country Trainers premiership.

A large contingent of Guyra racegoers were present trackside for the event.

Other race results were:

Race 1 Armidale Cup Maiden Plate winner 'Prevaricate'

Race 2 Guyra Fuels / Four Ways Service Centre Benchmark 58 Handicap winner 'Oh No Bro'

Race 3 Dasha's Hardware / Iga Guyra Country Boosted Maiden Handicap winner 'Holy Mackerel'

Race 4 The Guyra Hotel Super Maiden Handicap winner 'Staffa'

Race 5 C T Electric / Elders Guyra Country Boosted Class 1 Handicap winner Princess Mary

Race 6 Watson McNamara and Watt Guyra Cup winner 'Red Beryl'

Race 7 Guyra Bowling & Recreation Club Benchmark 58 Handicap winner 'Spirit of Pluto'
